Change of Seasons

It's That Time Again...

As the days begin to get longer take a moment to walk around your yard and make a list of Spring Clean Up items:

- Trim - this is the best time of year to trim, thin and shape your shrubs, trees and perennials.
- Fertilize all of your plant beds, trees and sod to feed healthy new growth.
- Pest control – prepare your sod for cinch bugs, and spray pest infestations with neem oil.
- Rake plant beds to remove all dead plant material. This will minimize pest and disease infestations in the coming year.
- Mulch – prevent weeds before they begin to grow.
- De-thatch and aerate all sod areas, then treat weeds for a lush green lawn.
- Irrigation – check all heads and rotors. Replace damaged parts and adjust for proper coverage.
- Drainage – correct grade issues and tile in down spouts to eliminate washouts and mosquito infestations.

Celebrating 40 Years of Landscaping

Home by Home, Generation to Generation: the History of Albright Landscaping

by Melanie Albright

Back in the Day...

The year was 1976. My dad, Dan Albright, was a mere fourteen years old. He had an eagle eye for detail, a strong work ethic and a crazy idea: he would veer off the traditional route of skating through school because that was what he was supposed to do. Instead he would do more: he would do what he needed to do. Specifically, he would take his destiny into his own hands, dedicate his life to his work and transform dead spaces into venues where the moments we live for take place.

He started with clean-ups and cutting grass. Before long, he found his love of working with plants, extending his clients' homes right into the outdoors, designing tropical paradises and country living spaces alike. Drawn in by the endless possibilities, he let go of maintenance and focused on landscape design and installation full-time.

As a result, by the time he was 16, my dad had five trucks and eight employees, all of whom were older than he was. Whether the jobs were big or small, the impact of the outcome was and has always been constant. Most memorable for my dad over the last forty years is his customers' astonishment with how quickly Albright Landscaping are able to bring dramatic, quality results: "It is always a joy to see their reactions after having just come home from work to see that their yard has completely transformed from whatever they left us with that morning," he explains, before continuing that "They'll call or text [him] months after [their job's completion] just to let [him] know how much they're enjoying their new landscaping, or that they've just had a beautiful wedding or party and all of their guests loved the work we did. That is the most satisfying thing."

Xeriscape Landscapes requiring minimal effort after installation, using slower growing plants with reduced watering and chemical requirements.

As we enjoy the cool evenings of spring many home owners are committing to getting the most from their outdoor space. To some it means just a pretty view, to others - space to entertain or relax. The main thing they all have in common is reducing the expenditure of valuable resources.

“I’m selling that mower!” exclaimed one client after we recently removed all of the sod from his yard. Implementing a Xeriscape design for their family meant a combination of easy-going tropical plants, spaced with their final size in mind for a lush colorful landscape and minimal trimming. Utilizing a modern irrigation system with rain sensors and zoned timers, lots of mulch and some hardscape pathways, Saturday morning yard-work has been replaced with tee times!

Whether it’s a new patio, expanding water-wise plant beds, or installing shade trees, we can turn your wish list into your reality. Call 727-526-8835.
